SLAYER OF PRETTY WOODHILL WOMAN DIES DESPERATELY

Discovered in Boat by Posse
He Flees But Is Over-taken at Scene of His Crime

MYSTERY IN THE MURDER
Roberts Was Intimate With Woman Whose Heart-Broken Husband Was Awaiting Her

ST. MICHAELS, Md., June 25.—Emmet Roberts, alleged slayer of Mabel Thompson Woodhill, adopted daughter of Col. Chas. A. Thompson, and ward of former Secretary of the Treasury, Gage, wife of G. A. Woodhill, automobile agent at Los Angeles, Cal., was shot to death by a sheriff's posse at McDaniel this morning at 4 o'clock, while resisting arrest.

See Mysterious Craft

Shortly after midnight this morning a mysterious looking craft was seen moving up the waters of Back river along the shores where the houses of Col. Thompson and the bungalow of Roberts are situated. It is unusual to see a small boat in the river at such an hour and John McQuay, who has a farm on a point, making out into the creek near Bowman, notified Sheriff Mortimer and Magistrate Wiley, who were at St. Michael, McQuay said the boat looked like the one in which Roberts

WOODHILL TALKS
LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 25.—Gilbert Woodhill recovered from his collapse owing to his wife's murder today enough to see a representative of the United Press.

"I knew my wife had been divorced from Caswell when she married me," he said, "but I knew very little about her antecedents. I also knew that Mr. Gage was acquainted with her history more fully than I myself was. I never inquired into her adoption by Mr. Thompson but I heard the papers in the case were filed in Baltimore and presumably they contained the data regarding her."

escaped from McDaniels and the men in it looked like the missing man. Sheriff Mortimer, Magistrate Wiley and a posse of six men hurried to the stream, reaching the river shore at 1 a. m. All were armed. They crept down to the water's edge under cover of darkness and made out the outlines of a man in his shirt sleeves leisurely rowing a boat up the river. They made no demonstration, fearing they would frighten their man. They resolved to wait until the rower got into a narrower water and within range. Sheriff Mortimer and Deputy Hopper procured a boat and followed Roberts. Roberts, annoyed by the continued following, hastened up the river at a faster pace, the sheriff's boat following. Magistrate Wiley and the others followed along the shore line. The cornering maneuver began shortly after 1 a. m.

For one, two and three hours, the two boats and the posse proceeded

5 CENTS FOR 6,000 MILES.
LONDON, June 25.—Guglielmo Marconi today told a committee of the imperial press conference that within a few months wireless telegraphy would be developed to the point where it would be possible to transmit messages a distance of 6,000 miles at no more than five cents a word. Transatlantic messages, he said, would be possible in a short time at this rate.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 25.—All of the officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers will leave Pittsburgh tomorrow for the tinplate centers where they will make addresses and campaign against the open shop order of the American sheet tinplate company.

NO SETTLEMENT IS NEAR IN STRIKE IS OPINION TODAY

Men Insist on Thru and Sprout Being Reinstated
With Other Striking Carmen

"DUPLICITY" SAYS REEVES

Says Offer of Company Is Not "on the Square";
Company Defends Its Position

On the corner of Avon and Sill this afternoon a street car smashed an automobile owned by Sid Law to pieces, knocking it onto the curb. The car did not stop. No one was hurt, the occupants miraculously escaping. It is announced this afternoon that so far as the Car company is concerned the strike is on again full force.

The street car men do not consider the proposition of the La Crosse City Railway company as a bona fide offer of peace, but, on the contrary, regard the offer made to them yesterday through the medium of the mayor and city attorney as a ruse to get them back to work, and the present trouble, and then gradually weed them out one by one, in this manner effectively killing the union. The company officials emphatically deny this and assert that they are anxious for any honorable and fair peace terms.

At a rousing meeting of the car men held at Labor hall this morning, Fred Fay of Detroit, a member of the general executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employees, delivered an eloquent address, urging the men to stick by their cause and never give in to the company until a "fair and square deal" is made them.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one and all members of the union were present. Mr. Fay expects to remain in La Crosse until the present trouble is settled.

Railroads Co-operate.
This afternoon the members of the Car men's union are in session at Fjelstad's hall, corner of St. Paul and Caledonia streets, on the North side, as the guests of the four railroad brotherhoods of the North side. The railroad men have promised their heartiest support and a resolution was passed endorsing the stand taken by the street car men, and prohibiting members and the railroad men's families from patronizing the company's cars. The carmen walked to the North side in a body.

Onalaska Line Blocked.
Operation of street cars on the Onalaska line was stopped this morning by the piling of rocks and building stones on the tracks by strike sympathizers. Sheriff Duncan and several deputies were called there at noon and are now protecting the cars. So far, aside from arrest of Connor, the strikebreaker who assaulted a citizen on the north side yesterday, the sheriff has made no arrests.

Boycott Directors' Interests
Communications have been received by President Charles F. Masterston of the union, and International Secretary Reeves from the officials of labor unions in Winnipeg, Minneapolis, Minneapolis, Omaha and other cities, asking if the unions here are boycotting the products of certain local industries, the heads of which are directors of the local traction company. At the meeting of the Trades and Labor council which will be held this evening, with the carmen at union hall the matter will be taken up. The International secretary will recommend that certain of these products be boycotted.

Locked-out Men Paid
Members of the carmen's union will receive a regular weekly sum of five dollars each from the union, in addition to which they will be paid equal shares of all contributions made by other unions.

The locked-out employees still retain their buttons, badges and uniforms, although the company is anxious to redeem them. For every set of badges, caps and buttons issued to the men the company has retained out of the wages of the men $7.50 as security for their return when the men leave the employ of the company. The men claim that the fact that these are still in their possession is evidence that they have not quit, but have been locked out by the employers.

Little Disorder
The rain of last night dampened the enthusiasm of the crowd assembled on the down town streets and there was very little disorder compared to the night previous. At central car barns a large crowd, however, stood

New Clews To Whereabouts Of The Missing Leon Ling

Slain granddaughter of war hero, Miss Elsie Sigel, 4th missing Chinaman, Leon Ling at upper right. His chin also missing. Chung Sun and the building in which body was found.

NEW YORK, June 25.—With a suspect under arrest at Newton, Long Island, and a report that a Chinese giving the name of Leon Ling or Lang is aboard the steamer Arizonian bound for San Francisco, the police this afternoon continued a search of Chinatown after throwing a cordon of police about the district to prevent any Chinese from leaving. The suspect held in Newton is believed to be an important factor in the mystery which has hidden the murder of Elsie Sigel, the young missionary. He was captured after a long chase across the fields near Newton and refused positively to give any explanation regarding himself. He said his name was Harry Kie.

through the storms on the opposite side of the street and jeered the strikebreakers as the cars passed or were brought into the barns.

The falling of a line on the east side of the street, just above the car barns at about 9 o'clock dropped several live wires into the street and caused a general scamper for places of safety. It was said that the iron pole had been sawed off, but the carmen claim that it was rusted almost off and was pulled down by one of the company's cars, the trolley pole of which became entangled in a guy line.

Cars Halted Early.
All cars were pulled into the barn early, the doors being closed on the happy family of strikebreakers at half-past nine. Under heavy police protection two repairmen from the barns fixed up the broken trolley wires in the rain, while the mob stood to one side and jeered.

The two members of the state board of arbitration, E. F. Pahl and John Humphreys of Milwaukee, are still in La Crosse endeavoring to secure some sort of a compromise between the two factions. Up to the time of going to press there has been no sign of a conciliation.

Night Sergeant Shell Post with his buggy was one of the busiest men in the city last night. He was kept driving from one part of town to the other, keeping his men on the lookout for possible trouble. Besides the regular night crew, all of the day men were kept on duty under the night sergeant until after the crowd had disappeared.

will preach a sermon on the topic, "The Brotherhood of Man," to which an invitation is extended to all union men. Mr. Cunningham will talk of unionism, strikes and general labor conditions.

Reeves' Statement
"I was approached by the state board of arbitrators, Messrs. Pahl and Humphreys, at about 12:30 today. They claim they had had an interview with Mr. Edwards and that he had given them to understand that he would not take the men back, or reinstate them unless they would relinquish their membership in the union; and that he would agree to no settlement which would require him or the officers of the company to receive any committee upon grievances, if such committee should be composed of union men in his employ. He also refused to permit the wearing of the emblem of the association upon the uniform of employees. He also refused to arbitrate any question of condition of re-employment before a board of three disinterested citizens of the city of La Crosse. The proposition which the arbitrators submitted to me as being that of Mr. Edwards to the employees, was in no way different from the proposition submitted through the mayor, and city attorney, yesterday. He is willing to arbitrate the wage scale, if the men will give up their membership in the association and return to work."

Calls Company Insincere
"So there has nothing come, so far as I can see, from the efforts of the state-board of arbitrators."

Didn't Offer Open Shop
"I trust that it may not be understood that Mr. Edwards yesterday handed to his locked out employees an 'open shop' proposition. Neither did he grant the assurance that the

Contempt, Perjury and Subornation of Perjury in Erlich-Madland Anderson Case

JUDGE BRINDLEY IS AROUSED

Tells Witnesses What He Thinks of Them, But Frees Woman Because She Is Sick

Assault, abusive language, contempt of court, perjury and subornation of perjury all appeared in a case in county court this morning, when Mamie Madland, Carrie Madland and Mary Anderson were tried on complaint of Ida Erlich, daughter of the fish merchant, for assault.

It was a characteristic neighbor hood row in which Ida Erlich claims to have been struck by Mamie Madland, who alleged the Erlich girl called her vile names. Mrs. Madland interfered as did Mary Anderson and torn waists, bruised shoulders, vile language and lying all appeared in the evidence.

Two little boys appeared as witnesses for the defense who had been nowhere near the fight, one testifying they had been told they would get 85 cents if they told the story of the fight, which had previously been rehearsed by one of the defendants. The other lad claimed to have seen the fight, but his chum weakened and admitted neither had been in the vicinity. Mamie tried to explain she did not ask them to testify falsely, and on account of their age Judge Brindley decided not to punish them as deserved.

Contempt of court appeared when Mamie Madland appeared and informed the court her mother, Carrie Madland, would not come to the court house. The court dispatched the sheriff and the woman was brought into court. Her condition there, however, inspired the judge to withhold punishment for contempt.

Mamie Madland was fined $5 and Mary Anderson $1 and they will divide payment of the costs.

CONTINUES LIST OF ALLEGED MURDERS

ST. JOSEPH, June 25.—That Wm. Murphy the Jefferson City convict, who every day tells stories about murders he says, he has committed is trying a most unique suicide method is the belief of some of the officers here who have been investigating his confession. Mrs. Murphy seems to agree with these ideas.

"My husband is weary of prison and wants to be hanged," she said. She declared she did not think her husband was really guilty of any such crimes.

In his latest confession Murphy says he killed his brother and his sister. He forced his brother to step on a rattlesnake, he says, and the snake killed him.

Murphy includes in a list of his "murders" two people who were thrown out of a boat when he swam out on a dare and tried to climb into the craft.

NEW SHUBERT THEATER
ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 25.—The Shuberts announced today that they have decided they will build another $200,000 theater in St. Louis. The new house will be ready a year from the opening of the coming season. It is to be much larger than the present Shubert Theater here, the Garrick and will be used for presenting musical shows while the Garrick will be reserved for straight dramatic productions.

BOYAJIAN TRIAL ON
DETROIT, Mich., June 25.—The trial of Garabade K. Boyajian, cultured Armenian physician and lecturer, for the killing of his nephew, Harteem Gestanian in police court April 30, was begun today. Boyajian and his wife have become reconciled and the physician has helped plan his case. His defense will be temporary insanity.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Senator Elkins today introduced an amendment to the tariff bill giving a rebate of 5 per cent on all goods imported in American bottoms.

LA CROSSE GUESTS OF HONOR

Excursionists Entertained After Fine Trip, Taking in Houston and Rushford Enroute

(By a Staff Correspondent)

LANESBORO, Minn., June 25.—La Crosse is a guest of honor at the Lanesboro Homecoming festival today, a special train under the auspices of the Manufacturers and Jobbers Association having brought a great aggregation to this city to the tunes of Kreutz's band. A royal welcome awaited the visitors, and they are spending the day in the pursuit of delights that are enhanced where "lids" are unknown and good-fellowship is in the air.

We got away from La Crosse without a mishap, and the excursionists were in the best of humor. The trip was interrupted by several stops in which the glad hand was extended by citizens of towns that turned out smiling and extended the glad hand.

At Houston, the excursionists marched about the city led by the band, and the experience proved a delightful frolic. The treatment extended the visitors was most cordial, and the existence of a close and friendly feeling between Houston and La Crosse was made manifest.

Meet Old La Crosse Man
At Rushford a serenade by Gale College band, which was in the city on a tour, was given at the depot, after which Mayor Magelson made a rousing speech to the excursionists. A pleasant incident here was a handshaking fest with W. R. Putnam, 73 years old, and a former resident of La Crosse, who was at the depot to renew acquaintances. The stop was a most pleasurable one.

When we arrived in this city we were met at the train by the committee in charge, consisting of J. H. Leavy, Chairman; Sidney Anderson, Secretary; Mayor Drake, W. E. Hanson and M. W. Williams. The Lanesboro band greeted us with a serenade and upon arriving at the park selections by the band and the Lanesboro

Scotch Woolen Mills Co.'s EDITORIAL

Tomorrow is the Day

We always try to do what we say we'll do.

When the dull times came we told our tailors not to worry—that we would give them work all Summer.

We have been telling you since last Tuesday that we would cut our prices and unload our heavy stock of Spring, medium and heavy weight woollens.

Now, we intend to keep our word with our tailors—a man is foolish to discharge good help unless he absolutely has to—and good tailors, as good as we have, are mighty hard to get.

Here is the evidence that we have cut all profits out—that we have cut prices so low that no matter what a man can buy clothes for elsewhere, not even barring the hand-me-down guessfit stores—it is unnecessary to add that we can give you a better bargain.

If we didn't feel obligated to our tailors, and if our stocks were not so heavy, nothing would drive us to make this sacrifice.

At $13.50 we will make you a suit that we regularly charge $15.00 and $17.50 for (the kind other tailors ask $22 to $25 for.)

For $16.50 we will make you a suit that we regularly charge $20.00 and $22.50 for (the kind other tailors would tax you $30.00 for.)

For $19.50 we will make you a suit that we regularly charge $25.00 and $27.50 for (the equal in every respect of any other tailor's $40 outfit.)

Every man who attends this sale can be his own salesman. All our $13.50 bargains are marked with red tags; our $16.50 goods with yellow tags, and our $19.50 ones are marked with green tags.

We expect to do a land office business, and if low prices, splendid values, perfect fit and workmanship count for anything we ought to have the measure of every man in town on our books before this sale ends.

One thing you can depend upon. Every man will get an absolutely square deal. This sale is now a tide in every sense of the word.

We shall look for you tomorrow.

Yours truly,

SCOTCH WOOLEN MILLS CO.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND

Safford's batting was a feature of the game, the local manager getting four hits out of five times at bat.

McNamara umpired bases yesterday with Dolan officiating at the other end of the game. Both of the umpires gave good satisfaction.

Wilson, the Lumberjack's center fielder, accepted 5 possible chances without an error yesterday, getting that many put outs to his credit.

Barlow made a pretty pick up in the sixth inning, getting a difficult throw and registering a put out.

Kraher, after a long sprint, caught a difficult fly in the same inning, behind first base.

Today the Outcasts are playing the first of a series with the Clippers at Winona. Tomorrow they will return here for a doubleheader and it is expected that a large crowd of fans will be present with a goodly stock of rooting.

Schieffer got the only three-bagger in the game yesterday off the delivery of Wolford in the second inning.

Burkhart seemed to have the La Crosse players in a condition where they were afraid to attempt stealing second base. His watchful eye was ever on the initial sack.

Women like to gossip almost as well as men like to boast.

MCCARTHY PICKS U. OF W. BALL TEAM

MADISON, Wis., June 25.—Coach McCarthy has picked eleven baseball players to make the Japan trip. Aside from the members of this year's nine, three stars now eligible for the conference games—Hesmer, Rogers and Barlow—will strengthen the nine on the oriental tour. Wisconsin will play as follows:

Captain Knight and Nash, pitchers; Barlow and Kolenpell, catchers; Fellows, shortstop; Timbers, first base; Mesmer, second base; Pergande, third base; Flanagan, left field; Rogers, center field; Muckleston, right field. An extra infielder probably will be taken.

Members of the team will advance part of the expenses for the going trip and the balance will be provided by the alumni. The team will meet at St. Paul Aug. 22 and sail from Seattle Aug. 31. Games at the Seattle exposition are assured.

innings, replete with poor fielding and lack of headwork, the locals lost the last of the series to Wausau yesterday afternoon by the overwhelming score of 14 to 6. The game can almost be imagined from the score. It was the poorest exhibition of ball ever put up at the local park, the La Crosse team demonstrating that they could put up a rarer game than the visitors.

Wolford, who was touched up for six hits in the second inning, was relieved by Watson, who fared better and would have held the score down but for poor support.

The visitors used three pitchers, Burkhardt being taken out after walking three men in succession in the sixth, and Russell being replaced by Lakoff in the next inning after having allowed three passes to first. These passes were mostly responsible for the six scores which the local team registered.

Wausau gathered 18 hits off the local pitchers, six of which were made off Wolford in the second inning. La Crosse made ten hits but they were well scattered throughout the game.

In the second inning "High Ball" Wilson was out, Gregory to Barlow. Schieffer hit a three-bagger to right field, and came home on McGee's hit to center field. On a hit to right field by Burkhardt, McGee went to second, being advanced to third by Sullivan's hit in the same garden. Johnson slammed out a two-bagger to center, scoring three runs on a poor throw by Safford. Wilford was taken out and replaced by Watson. Bourgeois slammed a safe one to center, scoring Wausau's catcher. McLaughlin hit to left field and was safe on second on a poor throw to Kraher. Wilson slammed one in the center garden, scoring Bourgeois and McLaughlin. Schieffer filed out to Safford and ended the agony.

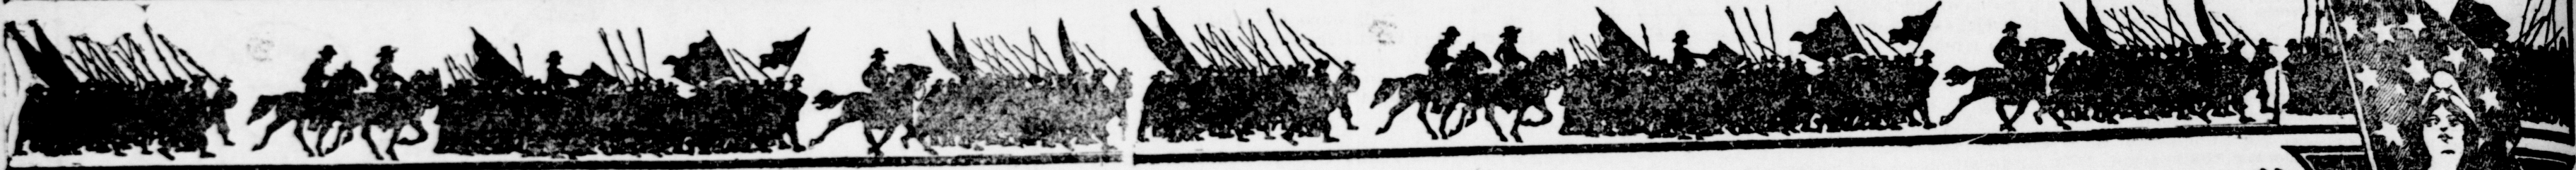

In the fifth the visitors annexed another count, when Wilson, who had hit to short, scored on McGee's hit to the same place, which Gregory failed to stop.

Brass Band Adds to the Occasion and Delegation Is a Very Large One

With Kreutz's band of twenty pieces playing, the special Jobbers and Board of Trade train of three coaches containing about two hundred people, left the Milwaukee passenger station at 8:30 o'clock this morning on the excursion to Lanesboro, to take part in the La Crosse day exercises. Every one of the excursionists was brimming with good humor and from the early indications the day will be a striking success in every way both for the local delegation as well as the people of Lanesboro.

The excursion special will return about 9 o'clock this evening.

The Athletics baseball team accompanied the delegates and this afternoon played ball at that place, this being the chief attraction of the afternoon.

The affair was handled by the board of trade and the Manufacturer's and Jobbers association and everything was in readiness at the proper time this morning at this end of the line.

Many of the citizens of the city, beside those directly interested in the organization attended the excursion, a fact that will help to insure its ultimate success.

up the river, the shores narrowing all the while. Roberts was nearing the scene of the crime of Saturday where the accomplished woman of fashion was slain in or near the bungalow of the polished, much traveled man of the world.

As the shores came together, members of the posse made out the features of Roberts. He was nearing the wharf at McDaniel, from which point he is supposed to have fled.

When Roberts got abreast the landing place and was about 100 feet from shore, Magistrate Wiley and his two deputies stepped out in the opening.

His Answer a Shot

"Hello, Roberts! Throw up your hands!" shouted the magistrate.

Roberts did not utter a word but rose in his boat with a big revolver in his right hand. He quickly leveled it at the party on shore and fired.

The posse fired a shot at the white shirted figure standing in the boat.

The deputies waded out to the small craft and found Roberts had been shot through the mouth and was dead.

The boat was drawn to the shore and the body examined. Roberts had a bottle of poison in his pocket and a number of letters. The body was taken to St. Michael's.

Was Married Twice

Investigation today brought to light that the slain young woman had been married twice. It is said that when only 17 she wedded Dr. W. W. Caswell of Boston, whom it is asserted she left a few days after the ceremony.

Protégé of Lyman J. Gage

Mrs. Woodill was possessed of rare beauty. Before her marriage about a year ago to Gilbert Woodill the murdered girl had spent two winters in Baltimore at 825 St. Paul street. There she made many friends. She was a personal friend and protégé of ex-Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage, who visited her while she was in this city and whom she frequently visited at his home in California.

Last week she came from her home at Los Angeles to the home of her foster father, Capt. Chas. H. Thompson, near McDaniel station. She was a favorite with Capt. Thompson and her husband brought her east to spend the summer on the eastern shore farm.

Soon after her arrival Roberts was noticed frequently in her company. It appeared that the pair had previously formed an acquaintanceship and they were seen together a great deal a few days before she disappeared.

Roberts owned a little farm adjoining that of Capt. Thompson and located on the same creek. He went there last month and told the neighbors that he was from Washington and was a special writer for newspapers in that city.

Was Met By Roberts

Last Saturday Mrs. Woodill went to Easton and had some dental work done. When she left Capt. Thompson's she said Roberts would see her safely home. She was to have met him at Royal Oak station and to have sailed from there home. Roberts did meet her but he had a horse and carriage. Helping the young woman into the vehicle he drove toward St. Michael's.

When they reached that town Roberts sent the team to a stable and escorted Mrs. Woodill to a pier where his launch was moored. They boarded the boat and headed for the little creek that passes through their homes.

The last seen of Mrs. Woodill was when the launch left St. Michael's wharf. Between that time and the discovery of the body in the creek today, there is more or less mystery as to what transpired. Capt. Thompson became anxious at the continued absence of Mrs. Woodill, but Roberts said she had gone to Baltimore.

SLAYER OF PRETTY WOODILL WOMAN DIES DESPERATELY

Roberts came to Baltimore on Tuesday and at that time a letter was received by Capt. Thompson which purported to be from Mrs. Woodill. It was mailed in this city and said she was in Baltimore and that she would be back home in a day or two.

Foster Father Was Suspicious

Roberts returned to McDaniel, found that the letter has been received, and then said: "I told you so."

But Capt. Thompson was not altogether satisfied and a search justified his suspicions when the weighted body with its skull crushed was found in the river.

Some Hidden Romance.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25.—With the killing by a sheriff's posse early this morning of Emmet Roberts, slayer of Edith May Thompson Woodill, the mystery surrounding a strange romance—because there must have been something more than a passing acquaintance—deepens to the point where there seems no chance of unraveling. What strange emotion linked the lives of this beautiful girl of 22 and the man of 59 perhaps will never be known, as the lips of both are now sealed in death.

Despite the most energetic search by the authorities and newspaper men there has been nothing brought to light to give an inkling as to when or where the friendship of the two began.

No one can be found who knew of an acquaintance between Roberts and Mrs. Woodill before the former came to St. Michaels.

Man of Refinement.

"Roberts was a man of refinement and great intellectual attainment," said J. B. McQuay, who knew the murderer, today.

"He told me he was a special writer and correspondent for thirty-five papers and had spent most of his time traveling around the world. He asked me about buying farms. One day a telegram came and the next day he left my home, telling us that he had been called to Philadelphia. He limped while walking and never left the house without his cane. I have a great amount of mail for him and I remember on one of the letters was the name of 'Thompson.'"

It was stated in Baltimore today that Roberts had a mother and sister living in Denver, Colo. If Mrs. Woodill knew Roberts before he came to St. Michaels she did not confide this to anyone, but they soon became acquainted and were fast friends, spending much time together.

Her Strange Life.

Now that the little woman is dead there is being woven together a story of her life that reveals romance and mystery in every phase. In the first place there is mystery as to her parentage. Said to have been a ward of Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury, she was adopted by Col. and Mrs. Thompson of McDaniel when she was but 2 years old and by them she was given her education. It is said that Mr. Gage became interested in the young woman when she was about 12 or 13 years of age, and that he sent her away at his expense to obtain a musical education, but Mr. Gage has so far even declined to tell what his interest in the young woman was, or to admit that he was interested in her.

Another chapter of mystery was that she was twice married. It is said, her first husband being Dr. W. W. Caswell, of Boston.

Suicided for Love of Her.

It was about two years ago that there was a tragedy in the life of the young woman, for her foster brother, Chas. Thompson, was desperately in love with her and upon her refusal to become his wife, he shot and killed himself in New York.

Gage Proud of Her.

Following this event Mrs. Woodill went west. Whether she went because of the remorse she may have felt in that she had dragged down sorrow upon the heads of her kind foster parents by not being able to respond to the love of her son, not known, but she did leave her former environment.

While taking her course at the Peabody institute, the young woman boarded with Mrs. J. Randolph Crown. She met the secretary of the treasury in Washington and he took a great fancy to her for he not only visited her in Baltimore, but is said to have undertaken her musical education by supplying funds to go abroad. Former Governor Frank was interested in the young woman and he assisted her. When she returned from the continent, Mr. Gage met her in Washington several times. He was intensely proud of his protegee and even had her play for President McKinley shortly after the death of her foster mother.

On the contrary he offered to arbitrate the wage in the event that an agreement upon that point could not be made, providing the locked out men would return to employment under "No concession involving rules or policy of management."

NEURALGIA

A Method of Home Treatment.

Neuralgia is inflammation of a nerve. This inflammation is sometimes caused by exposure to cold, sometimes by the nerve irritation arising from a decayed tooth. Of all causes, however, a general debility of the system is by far the most frequent. The most eminent nerve specialists and the greatest medical writers agree on this point.

Lack of blood is almost always associated with neuralgia. Build up the blood, the impoverished nerves are fed and the neuralgia pains disappear. Absolute rest is the best aid to proper medical treatment.

Mrs. Otto O. Burke, of Onalaska, Wis., who was completely cured of a severe case of neuralgia by the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, says:

"From exposure to cold and wet, neuralgia settled through my neck and shoulders and I suffered with it for at least a year. It was so bad at times that I was confined to bed for two or three days. I had sharp, shooting pains through my neck and shoulders, which affected my arms. My joints and corals ached continually and my flesh was very sore. I had terrible headaches and it often seemed as though I could not endure them. I had severe pains in my stomach and, when I took a long breath, it seemed as though a knife was being thrust into my chest. For three months I could not do my work and could hardly drag around the house. I suffered untold misery.

"The doctor said I was suffering with neuralgia but his medicine gave me little relief. A friend, who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, urged me to try them. After a time I did so and was benefited in a short time. I took the pills until I felt cured and have never had a return of the neuralgia. I do not hesitate to give this statement for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cannot be praised too highly."

If you are ill and the treatment you are taking does not cure you, write for proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done in similar cases. Every nervous sufferer should send for a copy of our booklet, "Nervous Disorders, a Method of Home Treatment." It will be sent free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

FUN RUNS RIOT IN JOLLY GALA DAY

City's Key Lost.

The address of welcome, by Attorney Sidney Anderson, was greeted with cheers. He said the delicate thing, and relieved some apprehensions, when he told the visitors that the key to the city had been lost. Lo, the key to the city had been lost. Lo, the key to the city had been lost.

Mr. Frank Winter responded for La Crosse with his customary gusto and tact, and thereafter everybody scattered about and the fun began.

It was early noticed that W. D. Cameron was missing from the parade, but owing to his long and faithful service as a high private in the front rank he was excused, the order reciting that a man who can afford the gout was above parades and should belong to the "idle rich" class.

Some Musical Jingles.

The German Singing society, (irrepressible and impromptu), did a little business between smiles, and interludes by the two bands added zest to the morning hours. Frank Winter created some consternation by trying to satisfy his curiosity as to what the band was playing through the process of analysis, but he was pulled off with a promise that he would be permitted to make a Fourth of July speech at Hungry Point.

Calvert Is Rescued.

R. P. Stanton of the Wisconsin Trade Journal got lost in a millinery shop, and was rescued by R. Calvert. Secretary Calvert extricated Stanton without difficulty, but as usual became himself a victim to the pretty trimmers. Finally he was taken safely away under care of a bodyguard composed of H. G. Carroll of the McCallan Paper company, and F. H. Burgess, 96 lbs., and 96 lbs. 1 oz., respectively. The pair were at first taken for strikebreakers, but finally exonerated themselves by walking around a block.

Railroaders Make Friends.

Through it all Superintendent Perkins and Agent Hartwell, of the "S. M." were good angels doing stunts to keep the party happy, and the railroad made more friends than railroads are presumed to have in these piping times of railroad commissions and 2-cent fares.

"Hi"-wayman Pinched

A grafter was ejected from the train on the way up for attempting to sell Oregon lands. He gave his name as H1, and nearly landed a number of unsuspecting passengers. Finally a sleuthsome excursionist identified him by a hole in his shirt bosom where a diamond stud once rested, and the name "Goddard" found under his coat lapel completed the case against him.

Langenbach, Fox and Wm. Wigenborn constituted themselves a committee to induce John Kroner to accept the directorship of the band. In an impassioned speech Mr. Wigenborn declared Mr. Kroner the ideal man for the place, so classy, so finished, so handsome and debonaire, so fashion-platey all same Hub Miller, so irresistible to the fair sex. What could John do but prostrate his six-foot-four in a mighty bow and accept with giraffe grace.

For Afterwards

In the absence of Carl Michel the North Side Bottling works picked up courage to pass around some attractive souvenirs in which a graceful compliment was paid their non-toxicants, and everybody agreed that these delicious beverages were the best in the world for "afterwards."

R. H. Worth, who was presumed to have been left at Houston where a bunch of ladies caught his eye, turn-will submit the question of wage to arbitration.

The Employee's Proposition

Employees refused to accept the terms submitted by President Edwards, and submitted the following proposals:

"As a basis of agreement upon which service is resumed in adjustment of the present differences existing between the railway companies and employees who are members of Division 519 Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employees, we submit as specifications the reinstatement of Motormen Thrun and Sprout.

"Second, to determine upon the 'open shop' policy under which employment may be satisfactory to both parties and fixing membership in the association to provide that there shall be no discrimination against any employees who are or may become members of the same.

"Third, to determine a wage rate.

"Fourth, to determine the service day of employees.

"Fifth, that the rule providing discrimination against membership in the association by denying to employees the right to wear the emblem of the association be revoked.

"Sixth, that committees of employees shall be received by the management and officials of the company without prejudice as to whether they are members of the association or not, so long as the membership of the association is embraced of employees of the company.

"Seventh, that all employees who have been employed by the company or are in the service of the company for strike-breaking purposes be dismissed from any service of the company in the operative department in which the employees, parties to this agreement may be employed.

"Eighth, in the event that any of the above propositions are not agreed to by the company we hereby agree that such proposition may be matters for arbitration, before a committee of three disinterested persons, one to be chosen by the employees and the third, if not agreed upon by the parties to the agreement shall be selected by the two thus chosen. In the event that said parties are unable to determine upon a third arbitrator, the parties hereto will endeavor to determine upon an appointive authority."

R. H. Worth, who was presumed to have been left at Houston where a bunch of ladies caught his eye, turned up at this point, having caught the rear trucks, and with him came the two Johns, Holley and Beyer, who had stopped off to crack the local bank. They brought the dust with them.

Dengler's Awful Sox.

The sensation of the day was John Dengler's Sox. He wore this inflammatory pair last at Madison, during the U. C. T. convention eight years ago. He was acquitted on that occasion, but he will not be permitted to re-enter the state of Wisconsin with the hosiery, as it is feared rioting in the carmen's strike might again be precipitated.

Mr. Holcomb's auto was taken from the car and did good service in helping to carry the loads. The baggage master at La Crosse had at first refused to check it, declaring gasoline was prohibited on trains. Mr. Holcomb was able to show, however, that the tank was filled with lemon juice, and as everybody recognized the car as a lemon, the point was not disputed.

Arrives on Hand Car.

Gossip about the ball game was gloomy, because Gus. Grisbale had stayed at home under the impression that he would not be permitted to play. EXTRA! It's all right; Grisbale has just arrived on a hand car. Johnnie Langdon is proving an awful cut-up. He says he has to in order to keep in practice.

Two incidents have just come to light that developed on the train coming up. Secretary Calvert grew reminiscent on the way, telling about how he was auditor of the road in '63, when it ran only from a Crosse to Rushford. The boys let him have his way about it, but Supt. Perkins winked the other eye and tapped his forehead. "This 'we walk' talk has turned his head," he said.

The ball game is the big thing this afternoon. The La Crosse Athletics are to play Harmony, and a new brand of harmonics is expected to be tapped.

P. S.—Everybody happy, and nobody dry.

YOUNG MEN WANTED

Manufacturers and Wholesalers the Country Over Want Men at Salaries Ranging from $2,000 to $10,000.

Why young men prefer a life of drudgery at a small salary to dignified and agreeable work with a large salary is a mystery to those who are going ahead.

Without any previous experience, any young man of ordinary education can become a trained salesman in six weeks.

Traveling salesmen earn from $2,000 to $10,000 a year and expenses, and with the return of prosperity thousands are in demand.

The Bradstreet System has successfully trained thousands of young men by mail in salesmanship, and the president makes this announcement to the readers of The Tribune. He says: "I will teach you salesmanship at your home in six weeks, and secure you a position as a traveling salesman with a reliable firm. I have written a book which tells how easy it is for any young man with ambition to succeed as a salesman. This book I will gladly send you free." Write for it today, to the President Bradstreet System, 207 Cornwall Bldg., Rochester, N. Y.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

Something more than an ordinary tonic is required to restore health to a weakened, run-down system; the medicine must possess blood-purifying properties as well, because the weakness and impurity of the circulation is responsible for the poor physical condition. The blood does not contain the necessary quantity of rich, red corpuscles, and is therefore a weak, watery stream which cannot afford sufficient nourishment to sustain the system in ordinary health. A poorly nourished body cannot resist disease, and this explains why so many persons are attacked by a spell of sickness when the use of a good tonic would have prevented the trouble. In S. S. S. will be found both blood-cleansing and tonic qualities combined. It builds up weak constitutions by removing all impurities and germs from the blood, thus supplying a certain means for restoring strength and invigorating the system. The healthful, vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed make it splendidly fitted to the needs of those systems which are delicate from any cause. It is Nature's Perfect Tonic, free from all harmful minerals, a safe and pleasant acting medicine for persons of every age. S. S. S. rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling so common at this season, improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the stomach, acts with pleasing effects on the nervous system, and reinvigorates every portion of the body.

THE PURITAN CAPE.

(By Special Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, June 25.—The popular overgarment for ladies this summer is the Puritan cape. These are seen everywhere. The picture is not posed as a fashion plate, but is from a photograph taken of one of the fair baseball fans as she is about to enter the Polo grounds for the afternoon baseball game. The cape is simple in design and flowing and practically without ornamentation.

PANZLAU HEAD OF LOCAL CHAUTAUQUA

Rev. J. L. Panzlaus of this city will be superintendent of the Chautauqua which opens here June 28th. He has just returned from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he attended a general business conference of the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua system. The company last year did a half million dollars worth of business and spent $40,000 for newspaper advertising. They have 266 men under contract. Mr. Panzlaus' return was delayed by a washout on the Burlington near Prairie du Chien. Mr. Panzlaus takes the place of Mr. Lutz as superintendent here.

CUNNINGHAM MAY NOT BE RENAMED

MADISON, Wis., June 25.—There is every probability that T. J. Cunningham of Chippewa Falls may not be reappointed a member of the board of civil service commissioners. His term of office expired on June 21. There are two promising candidates for the position. One is Emil Wittzack of Fountain City. He is the editor of a German paper and is a man of considerable prominence. The second man whose name has been heard frequently in connection of the appointment is Prof. Heim of Horicon. It is probable that the appointment will take place within the next few days and that one of the two will be chosen.

"The Bath DeLuxe" For the Shampoo Delightful

No other brush for the shampoo is so convenient, effective and altogether satisfactory as the Knickerbocker Spraybrush. Designed primarily for bathing the body, it sends directly to the skin countless tiny streams of fresh, clean, flowing water. Applied to the head, the little rubber teeth cleanse thoroughly the scalp and the roots of the hair.

Knickerbocker Spraybrush

is the ideal shampoo brush because its soft rubber teeth-tubes more nearly simulate the action of the finger tips when applied to the scalp than any other shampoo device known. With the Knickerbocker you can use soap or eggs for a shampoo and thoroughly cleanse and rinse the scalp and hair with ease.

YOUNG BRYAN AND MISS BERGER WED

Daughter of Socialist and Son of Commoner Wed to Battle for Young Bride's Life

GRAND LAKE, Col., June 25.—A love match which had its beginning during childhood, culminated yesterday in the romantic marriage of Wm. J. Bryan, Jr., son of the three presidential candidate, and Miss Helen Berger, of Milwaukee. Standing on the shore of the lake and beneath the shade of a stately pine tree, they plighted their troth as man and wife. The Rev. Harry Huntington, a personal friend of the groom, of Crete, Neb., performed the ceremony at 9 o'clock this morning. Miss Edna Baker, of Lincoln, attended the bride, while Sam Berger, brother of the bride and former classmate of the groom at Culver Military academy, was best man. The wedding party was made up only of immediate relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Leavitt, Grace Bryan, Mr. Berger and Mrs. Levering, aunt of the bride. The younger Bryan and his bride are to spend their honeymoon at Grand Lake, departing late in July for Tucson, Ariz.

The bride has been in frail health for several years and physicians diagnosed incipient symptoms of tuberculosis, the ailment which caused her mother's death. Commanded to remove at once to the Arizona climate, Miss Berger pleaded for an immediate marriage and won both Mr. Berger and Mr. Bryan to her cause. Wm. J. Bryan, Jr., has just concluded two years of study at the university of Nebraska in Lincoln. He will continue his schooling at the university of Arizona in Tucson. The young man is in his twenty-second year, while his bride is twenty.

FRANK FISHER HIGH GUN AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 25.—It will require all of today and part of tomorrow to complete the shooting of the Grand American Handicap which began at the Chicago Gun club grounds late yesterday. The weather was so threatening that only a small proportion of the entries had a chance at the first round of the targets.

Nineteen men made a straight score of 20. They included Gilbert and Crosby. Rube Waddell, the St. Louis pitcher, stood on the sixteen yard mark and fired at one round of birds. He got fifteen out of twenty getting all the hard shots and missing the easy ones.

Frank Fisher, an amateur from Eagle Grove, Iowa, upset all the "dope" by winning the preliminary handicap to the Grand American with a score of 94 out of 100. Fred Gilbert, of Spirit Lake, Iowa, led the professionals, breaking 92.

Shooting was resumed at 9 o'clock today.

The better satisfied you are with yourself the less likely you are to give satisfaction to others.

WISCONSIN NEWS

VERA LEE PLANNED TO DESERT HUSBAND

MILWAUKEE, June 25.—Vera Lee's confessed lover, "Dago Joe" Balisterre, sprung a surprise in the murder trial yesterday, when he testified that the resort keeper once proposed to him that he elope with her and leave her husband, Otto Lundstrum. That the Lee woman had shown her affection for the 22-year-old Italian, Balisterre, and had given him money, clothing and jewelry were all brought out in the state's attempt to prove a strong motive for the shooting.

Ardie Russel, housekeeper of the resort, in response to Assistant Attorney Backus's queries, testified that Vera Lee was placed in the same cell with her at police headquarters and here she said the defendant confessed to shooting Lundstrum.

PLASTER DOCTOR GOT HURRY UP ACTION

MILWAUKEE, June 25.—It took the jury just ten minutes to return a verdict of guilty against "Dago Joe" O'Keefe, tried in district court on a charge of practicing medicine without a license. Judge Neelen pronounced the maximum sentence, three months in the house of correction and $100 fine.

No sooner had the $500 bail been paid, after the trial, than another warrant for a similar offense was served upon O'Keefe by Detective Thomas Mulholland.

Witnesses for the state testified that O'Keefe was used to being called "Doctor." L. F. Schultz said that when, on one occasion, he telephoned to the plaster specialist's office and asked for "Mr. O'Keefe," he was corrected by the question, "Do you mean Dago O'Keefe?" The state introduced sensational testimony to show the alleged effects of O'Keefe's plaster treatment.

MAN WHO SHOT WIFE TAKEN BY SHERIFF

BEAVER DAM, Wis., June 25.—After firing two shots at him, Chief of Police August Goetsch succeeded in capturing Ivo Veinovic, who is charged with being responsible for the shooting of Mrs. Melida Veinovic, his wife, and Stephen Voakulic. The capture was effected in the rear of a saloon, where Veinovic had been found.

Veinovic had barely gotten out of the door when the chief was upon him, forced him to the ground, and placed him under arrest.

The condition of Mrs. Veinovic and of Voakulic is reassuring.

IT IS CHEESE CORNER NOW?

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., June 25.—Reasons for the extraordinary advance in the wholesale price of cheese on the Sheboygan call board, totaling almost 2 cents a pound over a year ago, have been traced by local jobbers to the persistent buying of two Chicago packers, Armour and Swift, who, it is believed, are laying plans to get control of the entire cheese market in the middle west.

You can't judge a man's courage by the size of his bluff.

STATE NOW HAS NO BOARD OF CONTROL

MADISON, Wis., June 25.—Although the new board of control act has been published and the present board is out of office, Gov. Davidson will not appoint the new board until the last of the week. He said he might not make the appointments for a week, as it is difficult to find good men.

He also has a new civil service commissioner to appoint, as the term of T. J. Cunningham of Chippewa Falls expired today.

Listen To Your Pains

Aches and Pains Are Nature's Warnings of Trouble Ahead

Mental and physical sickness are exactly like the breaking down of the loaded coal wagon across the car tracks. The hindmost traffic represents the state of mind or body under diseased conditions. Our aches and pains are nature's warning that we have violated the laws of life and health and soon we must pay unless we heed.

Most ills can be traced directly or indirectly to the stomach and digestive tract. Eat right and it's 10 to 1 that you will be right in health, and health means wealth.

Don't load your stomach with heavy foods such as meats and bread and potatoes in the morning. Try E-C Corn Flakes or Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes with good milk or cream and perhaps a little fresh or stewed fruit. You'll like it—it's good—so crisp and delicious—easy to digest—ready to serve.

Children grow strong and healthy on it. Invalids find it acceptable and nourishing and busy men and women find they can do a day's work without the hindrance of a sour stomach or an aching head if they eat it. Remember it's the wonderful Egg-O-See process that makes it so good to eat and so easy to digest.

CAN A MAN OBTAIN A LIBERAL EDUCATION DURING HIS SPARE MOMENTS?

Chauncey Depew Says a Man Can Do So While Waiting For His Wife

The remarkable statement given so forcibly by Senator Chauncey Depew before the graduates of a New York medical school this week is well worthy of careful study. During his commencement address the senator said:

"Married by all means, but do not marry until you can support a wife. You will have as much time after you are married as before if you know how to find it. A married man can obtain a liberal education while waiting for his wife at various times during the day."

While those of the fair sex may take exception to the liberal interpretation of this many maintain that it is they who could obtain the liberal education instead of their husbands, still the truth of Senator Depew's teaching holds. Does the young doctor, the lawyer, the business man improve every moment which is otherwise absolutely and irrevocably lost?

To drop the simile of the New York senator, how many men systematically thing out problems or attempt to study situations in their minds while walking to and from business or while sitting peacefully in a street car. How many men, while waiting the five or ten minutes for the noon or evening meal, have something to occupy their minds?

It is safe to estimate that the average American man or woman can readily count up an hour each day which is entirely wasted as far as any advancement is concerned. This does not include by any means the moments of recreation and relaxation which are essential to every well organized daily effort, but simply the moments scattered here and there over the day when the mind is either roaming about helplessly looking for something, or worse still thinking of schemes and ideas which work for the good of no one.

An hour each day counts up faster than would be at first realized. In the 365 hours wasted during the year one could accomplish the equivalent of two months of a college course. In a few years the self-made man could literally gain a college education during the few moments of otherwise wasted time each day. But take the young man of business. It is a fact that he can gain enough ideas for improving his work or the business of his employer during the spare moments to make the difference between success and failure.

A man who is bound up in his business, who likes his work, is usually a success and the one predominant secret of their success is that it is on his mind during his spare moments.

BUILD CURB NOW; PAVING AFTERWARDS

At a special meeting of the street improvement committee yesterday afternoon, it was decided that at the next meeting of the city council the construction of curb and gutter along the Mormon Coulee road from Mississippi to Green Bay streets should be recommended.

This is something new in the line of street improvements. The street will have the curb and gutter, before the bed is improved with pavement of any sort. Whether the recommendation will receive a favorable vote in the council is not known, although it is a matter that has been greatly agitated.

NEGRO AMUCK; HIS OWN FIFTH VICTIM

OPELOUSAS, La., June 25.—Four are dead as the result of what doctors say must have been a "brain storm" that affected Gilbert Wilson, a hitherto law-abiding negro. First he kidnaped a 15 year old girl and killed Henry Brown, who tried to protect her. Sophia Johnson and Emma Jackson led a posse into the woods where Wilson was known to be hiding, and he shot and killed both women. He then committed suicide.

INJUNCTION ISSUED IN HADREAS CASE

Receiver Ordered Not to Interfere in Business of Stavos Attanasios

Circuit Judge E. C. Higbee has issued a restraining order enjoining J. W. Snow, Jr., receiver in the case of John Hadreas vs. Stavos Attanasios from interfering with the latter or making any disposition of the property until the case can be heard in circuit court here June 26.

The original action was begun some time ago when Hadreas sued the defendant on a note of fifty dollars and received a judgment against him. The judgment was not satisfied and supplementary proceedings were brought before Commissioner J. C. Raymond, who appointed J. W. Snow, Jr., as receiver and ordered the defendant to turn over his place of business, and lease on his building at 208 1-2 South Third street, to the receiver. This the defendant did not do but the receiver ejected him and his employees from the premises and locked them out.

Through Constable Louis B. Omerberg the defendant then replevined the goods from the receiver. Court Commissioner Raymond then declared the constable and defendant in contempt of court and ordered them brought before him. He dismissed the action against them, upon their surrendering the business to the receiver.

It was alleged in the petition to the court that the receiver had not properly qualified and that the procedure was therefore in error and consequently void.

A. E. Bleekman, Jr., is attorney for Hadreas and A. C. Wolfe will appear for the defendant.

MAN DIES FROM POISON IVY WOUND

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 25.—It was "poison ivy" that killed James Dent, chief clerk of the railway mail service, who died in St. Luke hospital, St. Paul, Dr. J. T. Christison and three other St. Paul physicians who watched the case from its inception are agreed upon it. Mr. Dent went into the country Sunday before last for a stroll. He cut a walking stick from an oak branch. Infection set in and both hands became swollen.

After his removal to St. Luke hospital great interest developed in the case for it was thought that it was "oak poisoning" or some other unknown affection.

Mr. Dent in whittling the walking stick made a slight cut on his left forefinger. He wiped it off on a leaf. He had no recollection of the details but it is supposed that an ivy leaf came into direct contact with the cut and the poison was assimilated. Blood poisoning was the immediate cause of death.

BEVERIDGE GOES AFTER TOBACCO CO.

Assails Trust and Charges Bribery in Connection With Certain Tobacco Legislation

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—A wholesome arraignment of the tobacco trust by Senator Beveridge of Indiana characterized yesterday's proceedings in the senate. Among other things he charged the concern with having resorted to bribery in order to influence legislation. He said the general lobbyist was any man who held a high place in society and was personally well known to nearly all the senators. He said when any anti-cigarette or any unfriendly bill is pending in the legislature a solaried lobbyist with a living expense account was sent there to look after the interests of the trust. One of these lobbyists became a fugitive from justice.

In addition to its 400 retail stores, Beveridge asserted the trust was engaged in the production of tobacco, maintained a license monopoly in this country, had a news stand agency enterprise and had organized a bill posting company. "When the tariff bill came from the house to the senate," he said "it increased the tax on cigarettes, a poor, miserable little increase. Yet the finance committee of the senate actually struck this out. It is certain that the country will be astounded to learn this fact and there are members of the finance committee who do not know the increase was eliminated."

He said the United States Tobacco tax was the lowest in the civilized world. He said the revenue derived by the United States was $40,000,000 while England, with one half as large a population and consumina only one-third as much tobacco per capita, derives $65,000,000 and France $75,000,000 from the tobacco tax.

He continued: "We, Americans, are now consuming nearly 17 pounds every year for every male person over 16 years of age. If we would tax tobacco at the same rate as England or France, we would derive an annual revenue of more than $333,000,000."

He reviewed the history of the tobacco trust and told how it had absorbed or crushed out many rivals and not being content with the manufacturing and wholesale business it had invaded the retail trade. Its profits in 1899 were $7,200,000, whereas in 1906 its profits were $26,700,000.

Beveridge then took up in detail the report of the department of commerce and labor on prices of tobacco in support of his argument that the tobacco trust has made millions of dollars by the repeal of the Spanish war tax and the failure to restore the full weight of packages as sold before the war.

COLLEGES SCHOOLS OF IMMORALITY

TRENTON, N. J., June 25.—Bishop James A. McFaul, of the Catholic diocese of Trenton, N. J., is not done with his attack on the big colleges and their effect on young men who attend them. Following the statement of President Hadley, of Yale, that he did not believe Bishop McFaul had said that the tendency of the college education nowadays was to undermine faith and breed immorality, the bishop said yesterday:

"President Hadley need not hope to evade my charges that the Yale curriculum includes courses which undermine faith and breed immorality by saying he does not believe I have been correctly quoted, but I have not said half that I intend to say before I am done with one of the most menacing conditions the young men of this country have ever faced."

"There is no lack of specification in my charges," said Bishop McFaul after quoting several interviews with college professors which he said evaded the issue. "The colleges where immorality is being taught have been named. They are Harvard, Yale, Princeton, the University of Pennsylvania, the George Washington University, William and Mary, the University of Chicago, Columbia, Syracuse and the University of California."

After outlining his information Bishop McFaul said:

"And what was found in every case? The multiplex issues of immorality: the vitally important problems of political economy, marriage, divorce, the home, religion and democracy—all these sacred principles of a good man's life subjected to a mere loss of analysis as if they were fossils, gastropods, vertebrates, equations, chemical elements or chimeras."

"These are specific charges for you unless proof of their falsity is forthcoming I shall instruct every Catholic whom I can reach that to send a son to one of these universities is comparable only to committing his soul to hell."

SCHAEFFER GETS WALKING PAPERS

Charles Schaeffer, catcher and first baseman of the team since the opening of the season, received his walking papers from Manager Joe Safford yesterday morning. Schaeffer played fine ball up to a few days ago, but since then he seems to have entirely lost his batting eye. Schaeffer would probably have been kept but owing to the strict rules concerning the number of men allowed to be carried, there seemed to be no room for him.

In the 24 games he played in he was at bat 83 times, scored six runs,

CUNNINGHAM MAY NOT BE RENAMED

MADISON, Ws., June 25.—There is every probability that T. J. Cunningham of Chippewa Falls may not be reappointed a member of the board of civil service commissioners. His term of office expired on June 21.

There are two promising candidates for the position. One is Emil Wittzack of Fountain City. He is the editor of a German paper and is a man of considerable prominence. The second man whose name has been heard frequently in connection of the appointment is Prof. Heim of Horicon. It is probable that the appointment will take place within the next few days and that one of the two will be chosen.

MINE HORROR WILL TOTAL 21 DEATHS

WEHRUM, Pa., June 25.—Although a thorough search is being made here through the various workings of Mine No. 4 of the Lackawanna Coal and Coke company, where an explosion Wednesday snuffed out the lives of 17 miners and seriously injured 16 others, there is every reason to believe all the bodies have been recovered. All of the injured are being cared for today in the state hospital at Spangler, 40 miles distant.

It is believed that at least four of these men will die as they breathed the flash of the explosion.

ANOTHER TURKISH REBELLION NEAR

CONSTANTINOPLE, via Philipopolis, June 25.—Turkey is today facing another revolution in the opinion of close students of national affairs. The friction between the young Turks and the military party, led by Gen. Chetkek Pasha, is increasing daily and a clash between them in the near future is now believed to be inevitable.

A woman can forgive her husband for anything, if nobody else will.

D UPONT OUT OF DELAWARE POLITICS

WILMINGTON Del., June 24.—The most important political development of the year in Delaware became known when it was learned that T. Coleman du Pont, president of the du Pont Powder company, had withdrawn from the active duties of chairman of the republican state committee. Mayor Horace Wilson of Wilmington has been appointed vice chairman of the state committee with full power.

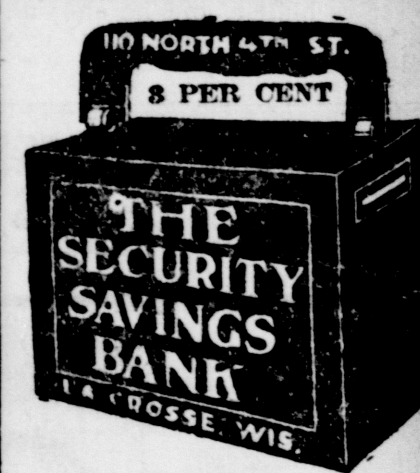

While it is given out that the reason for du Pont's withdrawal from the management of the committee's affairs is because of his illness, it is stated this step is but the forerunner of his complete retirement from participation in politics.

It has been understood for some time that the officials of the du Pont Powder company do not endorse T. Coleman du Pont's political ambitions. It is rumored furthermore that pressure is being brought to bear upon him to have him abandon politics. The primary reason for this is due to the fact, as previously announced, that the institution by the government of the present suit against the du Pont Powder company, for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, is attributed to his political activity.

BIG BUILDINGS BURN

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 25.—Eight buildings of the fertilizing plant of F. W. Hunnall & Co., at Wheat Sheaf Lane, Bridgetown, were destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss is estimated at about $100,000.

LUMBERJACKS WIN FIRST FROM LOCALS

The locals' first three scores came in the sixth after Kline, who had hit safe to center field, was pushed over the plate for the first run by three successive walks. On Crowe's hit to left field Kraher and Watson came home with the other two runs.

In the next inning La Crosse got two more runs, three walks by Russell, who had replaced Burkhardt, and hits by Safford and Eddie Kline being responsible for them.

In the eighth Wausau annexed three counts. Lakoff, who had replaced Russell, was safe on a hit to Malloy. Sullivan struck out. Johnson hit to Safford and Bourgeois put one in the same place. Safford attempted to throw Lakoff out at home but the visitor scored. With Bourgeois on second and Johnson on third, McGee hit an easy one to the pitcher. Watson threw to Roy Klein, who tagged the Wausau catcher out between home and third base. Dolan's hit to center field scored Bourgeois and McLaughlin. At this stage of the game many of the few fans who were present, left the stands. Wilson ended the inning by being thrown out at first by Watson.

In La Crosse's part of the frame, Klein, who had received a base on balls, scored the last of the locals' runs on hits by Safford and Gregory. In the last spasm the Lumberjacks recorded three more runs, the Outcasts seemingly trying to see how high they could make overthrows, two of these a low throw to Crowe on third sack and interfering with the base runner being responsible for the scores.

La Crosse went out in one two, three order, Kraher and Watson flying out and Malloy being thrown out at first by the second baseman. Shortstop Gregory was hurt in the eighth inning, sliding to first. He was taken to the La Crosse hospital with a badly sprained ankle and may not be able to play for about a month. He was replaced by "Rabbit" Wilhelm.

Upper left—Monument erected to the memory of George Dixon at Mt. Hope cemetery, Boston. Upper right—Memorial drinking fountain erected to his memory by public subscriptions at a cost of $1,400. This drinking fountain is located at Broome and Thompson streets, New York city.

Below is the monument which was proposed for Mt. Hope cemetery, but which the relatives objected to. For this reason it was decided to erect the drinking fountain instead.

last two innings today for a bundle of hits and beat Washington 5 to 1.

National League
The New York Nationals made it four straight from Boston by winning two games, the scores being 7 to 4 and 12 to 5. As was the case Wednesday, the first contest was interesting and the second a farce. The hard hitting of the Giants and two great catches by Coffey, Boston's new shortstop, were the features of the afternoon's play.

Brooklyn made it three straight with Philadelphia. The score was 6 to 3. The Brooklyn team won by long and hard hitting, four triples being a feature. Both sides fielded without an error.

St. Louis dropped the second game of the series today to Pittsburg.

Three Men Fail to Blow Up Safe in Store of La Crescent Merchant Last Night

BLAST AWAKENS NEIGHBOR

Men Flee Down the Road in the Direction of La Crosse But Are Not Yet Apprehended

The store of P. Ferguson at La Crescent, Minn., was entered through a rear window about 3:30 o'clock this morning by burglars, who attempted to blow open the safe but failed. Clyde Heil, who lives in the residence next to the store building, was awakened by the explosion and immediately investigated. Three men were seen to run from the store down the road in the direction of La Crosse.

Nothing of any value was taken from the store.

Suspicion has fallen on three men who have been loafing in the neighborhood for the past few days and who are at present missing from the village.

Two of the men are small and well dressed, in brown suits, and wore brown derby hats. The other member of the trio is large and roughly dressed. From the fact that they started in the direction of this city, the police were notified to be on the watch for characters answering the inadequate description furnished at La Crescent, but up to the present time no one has been apprehended.

AD LA CRESCENT ROBBERY

The police today picked up two suspects giving the names of Haden and Wilson. Both denied knowledge of the La Crescent affair, but as one carried a big bar of soap, one of the most essential tools of the safe cracker, they are being held for identification.

STYLES FOR THE OUTDOOR GIRL

SENSIBLE AND BECOMING COSTUMES FOR SUMMER SPORT

The OUTDOOR GIRL

NOW that the season has come when we who are dwellers in cities flee to the mountains or seashore or prairies, our thoughts turn to outdoor life and to the clothes we shall wear in order to thoroughly enjoy it. No woman is today fool enough not to make an effort to adopt her costume in vacation time to the vacation spirit. Banished are frills and furbelows, and in their place comes simplicity and comfort. Becomingness, however, is still ardently desired and as suggestions along the lines of suitability and attractiveness, I have selected the outdoor sporting costumes, which I am using as illustrations. In planning for your outing, I hope you will find them helpful.

Bathing-Suit in Princess Style

A very simple little model of pleated taffeta is shown here, the fastening being made beneath the central box-pleat at the front. The suit is of black taffeta and cuffs, collar and piping at the skirt hem are of black-and-white striped silk. The cap has a gay little bow of the striped silk. All the summer girls of 1920 will carry parasols with their bathing-suits—a really sensible notion while one is lounging on the blistering sand.

A New Bathing-Suit Model

Very graceful indeed is this pretty little suit of black satin, which is made in an entirely new way. The bodice is formed of the satin closely tucked and cut on the bias, a seam coming down the center-front and the upper edge of the tucking falling over the little puffed sleeve. Bias bands of striped silk give brightness to the suit, and the plain circular skirt accords well with the oddly-cut bodice.

Summer Riding Habit of Linen

The fair horsewomen who enjoy their favorite exercise in the South, and some of the younger women who ride in Central Park, ride astride, and this cool linen habit is designed for this method of riding. The skirt is cut in divided fashion and falls gracefully at either side of the horse when its wearer is seated in the saddle. When afoot the skirt hangs like any ordinary linen walking skirt in trotabout length. The coat of this habit is one of the natty little hip refusers which swing clear of the horse when the rider is seated.

Simple Togs for Tennis

The good tennis-player never cares to be bothered with frills. Her garb must be neat as possible, but the sort of raiment which will not get in the way or be whipped by the wind when she flashes about the court. This comfortable shirt-waist is of white madras and the neck is collarless in this year's cool fashion. An inset facing of blue linen edges the neck and tailored cuffs of the blue linen finish the loose sleeves.

One of the New Athletic Sweaters

This bonnie lassie in her plaided jacket might be setting forth a salmon fishing in the North Scotland streams. A very pretty notion it is—this trimming of plaided bands on the new wool sweaters, and these sweaters are sure to be popular with the younger women. To match the sweater, there is a comfortable Panama hat wound loosely with a dotted ribbon scarf which repeats the color of the plaid.

THE HIGH WAIST-LINE SKIRT

THE skirt with high waist-line requires an under-support at the waist, whether it be fitted closely or allowed to hang loosely, without curving in at the waistline. While the curveless line is the newer fashion, it is not invariably the most becoming, and must be a matter of individual arrangement. Whether the skirt be closely fitted or not, the supporting girdle is shaped exactly to the figure-line and boned at the seams; then the skirt is adjusted to it in accordance with the directions for bringing together corresponding perforations. A complete one-piece costume may, however, be made by draping the skirt from the waist-lining and omitting the supporting girdle. In this way any suitable waist may be united with a skirt into the desired costume. The perforations on the girdle, that are the guides in draping the skirt correctly, being transferred to corresponding positions on the waist-lining. A lining that extends two or three inches below the waist-line should be used, or the regulation staple lining, that extends well down over the hips.

Fitting the Lining

The lining is fitted and boned, and hooks and eyes are sewed at the center-front or center-back edges—whichever has been decided upon as the place of closing. A lining of this length is boned in the same manner as a full-length princess lining. The bones extend above the waist five or six inches (depending upon the figure), and below the waistline only far enough to reach the turn of the hips. If too long, the ends will show as points through the garment. In boning a lining of this length, the boning is turned under at the lower end and finished, the same as at the top, with about one-half inch of bone free from the seam, but covered with the end of the bone-covering.

SUMMER RIDING HABIT

WHEN THE FISH BITE WELL

When the waist-lining has been fitted and boned and the skirt cut and basted, the time has arrived for them to be fitted to each other, and here the girdle support has its use, though it is not included in the completed garment, the boned waist-lining taking its place. If the waist-line is not marked by perforations on the waist-lining, mark it, at the final fitting, by pinning a length of tape around the waist.

A NEW FRENCH BATHING-GOWN

The skirt pattern has its waist-line indicated by perforations. These were, of course, transferred to the cloth when the skirt was cut, and marked by tailor's tacks before the sections were separated. When the skirt goes are basted together, these tack-threads will form a continuous line around, corresponding to the regulation waist-line of the skirt. On the girdle pattern an upper row of perforations indicates the high waist-line of the skirt, the girdle extending above this line for a possible outside girdle finish that may be desired in some instances.

A SIMPLE TENNIS COSTUME

When the waist-lining has been fitted and boned and the skirt cut and basted, the time has arrived for them to be fitted to each other, and here the girdle support has its use, though it is not included in the completed garment, the boned waist-lining taking its place. If the waist-line is not marked by perforations on the waist-lining, mark it, at the final fitting, by pinning a length of tape around the waist.

should occupy on the waist-lining. While it involves a little more trouble, it is rather more accurate, particularly for the dressmaker without great experience. Even an experienced dressmaker will prefer to be extra cautious when she first attempts a new style that has some novel points of construction. It is a simple matter to cut a girdle, using the provided pattern and old scraps of cambric lining. Cut this carefully, mark the perforations, baste the seams and fit the girdle over the waist-lining, with the waist-line perforation of the girdle directly at the natural waist-line of the figure. Transfer these perforations, and those for the high waist-line, to the fitted waist-lining by pinning through both linings at each set of perforations, then turning over the edge of the girdle and making a continuous line of basting-stitches on the waist-lining, using the folded edge of the girdle as a guide. The girdle has now served its purpose, and may be removed, but kept with the pattern for future use. A well-fitted girdle support may be put to several practical uses.

Draping the Skirt

The skirt is now to be draped to the waist-lining, pinning its upper edge to the line indicated for it on the lining. The skirt may be fitted, at the normal waist-line, as closely to the figure as desired, making of the completed gown a princess or Directoire model, as either one or the other may be more becoming. With waists of the bolero type, the waist portion usually overlaps the top of the skirt, even when the latter is finished with a girdle in either criss or plain strap form.

When a waist in regulation waist-length is adopted with the skirt into a one-piece costume, it should be draped on the lining before the skirt, and the excess material, below the traced high waist-line, cut away. A high-cut skirt, mounted on its supporting girdle, may be worn as a separate skirt over almost any regulation-length waist, but such an arrangement will result in several unnecessary layers of material about the waist, and is hardly desirable for even a slender figure.

The girdle-supported skirt is, however, particularly well adapted for wear with an unlined lingerie or silk waist. The necessity for an extra belt or girdle is avoided, and there is no danger of the unsightly separation at the back between skirt-belt and outside belt. The lingerie waist, being thin, will not appreciably increase the size of the waist.

Consider Your Figure

It is by no means a hard-and-fast rule that the pattern's high waist-line must be made the same actual line at the top of every skirt. You may have some deviation of figure which, though slight, has necessitated some alteration-fitting in the vertical lines of waist and skirt, and it is quite as important that the few horizontal lines shall be individually suitable. The same position of bands and flounces cannot be expected to be equally suitable for a 39-inch and a 43-inch skirt length.

Correspondingly, a shorter length from neck to waist-line may require that the high skirt-line be lowered a bit. It is easily understandable that a stout figure may not gracefully wear a very broad girdle. For best effects, the latter's breadth should diminish proportionately with the inches that are added to bust and waist measure. On general principles, one piece of advice to a stout woman is to avoid horizontal lines.

Breaking the Waist-Line

The skirt's high waist-line may be broken to good effect by bretelle-like straps, that cross the shoulders and extend down on the skirt, well over the natural waist-line. They should be braided or otherwise trimmed.

VISITING IN TOWN AND COUNTRY

Forms and Usages to be Observed

THERE are many meanings of the term visiting, and the subject might be divided in several parts and still admit of subdivisions. Complications and problems are constantly arising in the ever-changing conditions of modern life, especially in small towns and country neighborhoods.

It may be well to discuss first the ordinary and conventional etiquette which applies to making calls on one's friends or on new acquaintances; next, a few rules about general visiting, both in paying and receiving calls, and finally the etiquette to be observed in visits made to friends in summer-time, over Sunday, or for a few days or a week.

Making Calls

Taking first the subject of making a call, it is understood that the rule of leaving one's card applies under all general circumstances, except in making informal calls on an intimate friend, where it would be unnecessary to leave cards in repeated visits.

In small places many persons seem to imagine that to leave one's visiting card is an affection, or that it expresses very formal intentions when extreme cordiality is the object of one's visit. It should be remembered that a card represents its owner; it gives one's street address; it reminds a hostess that one has called; if she is not at home it informs her of one's visit.

An important thing to be understood is that a card is never given to the person on whom one is calling. Such a mistake would mark one as ignorant of the first principles of good manners.

Leaving Cards

The usual rule in making a call is to give one's card to the servant who opens the door, or one may give one's name to the servant and lay one's card on the hall table in passing. In a modest household, without the facilities of servants, a certain difficulty arises for a timid visitor who is taken unawares when a member of the family opens the door. This need not cause dismay. One should be natural and try to say the obvious thing and ask if Mrs. So-and-So is at home.

If a very young member of the family comes to the door a visitor may say simply, "Is your mother at home?" If admitted, one would give one's name and lay one's card on the hall table or any convenient place. If not admitted one would say, "Please say that Mrs. Blank called," and one would not leave a card under these exceptional circumstances.

Welcoming the New Arrival

An aspect about calling which troubles some persons is when an older resident, a stranger, calls on a new-comer in a town. This custom prevails in small places, although not in cities, unless there are friends in common and one has been asked by a friend to call on a new resident. The proper thing to do when calling on a stranger is to send up one's card by a servant, but here the difficulty sometimes may be that servants are out or the only servant in the house may be busily engaged, and the lady on whom one is calling is obliged to open the door herself.

In that case the visitor must introduce herself simply by saying, "I am Mrs. Blank." The hostess should receive her cordially, shaking hands immediately and allowing the visitor to precede her when entering the parlor. When the visitor is leaving, the hostess accompanies her to the door. If other visitors are present, a hostess must not leave them, but must permit the departing visitor to go out alone to the hall.

If a man calls and a hostess is obliged, for lack of servants, to open the door, she precedes him in entering the parlor. A man must leave his hat, overcoat and stick in the hall. A woman must not accompany a man to the hall when he is leaving.

Those who live in suburban places should not expect friends from a city to go to the country to make a call.

Summer Visiting

Visiting friends in summer requires careful knowledge of etiquette. A hostess should write a note inviting a guest, specifying the time of the visit and giving exact dates, from Saturday to Monday, or from Wednesday to Saturday, or for a week, as the case may be, mentioning the train by which the guest shall arrive.

A reply must be prompt and definite and the dates must be repeated. It is unpardonable to say, "I will come if I can." This doubtful reply would disturb all possible plans of a hostess. Serious misunderstandings may arise unless these points are observed.

When a young man is invited to stay at a house the invitation is sent invariably by the mother, never by a daughter. A guest's duty is to be agreeable, tactful, good-natured, to fall in with any plan of action or amusement proposed; to know when to keep out of the way, to go to one's room and read or write; to remember that a hostess does not want a guest always with her.

Other points to be observed are never to pluck flowers in the grounds; never to injure books; to return books to their places; never to drive a horse too far if a horse is placed at a guest's disposal; to remember to give a fee to the maid who is obliged for one's room. Above all, it is obligatory after one's departure to write a note to one's hostess telling her of the pleasure of the visit.

Visiting Cards

One's visiting card is engraved from a plate, not printed and never written. Script is in good taste. The full name with a prefix is used—Miss Mary Emily Johnson. A married woman has her husband's full name on her card and a widow is entitled to the same privilege, thus: Mrs. Robert Henry Mason.

Household Silver

As a general rule, every one when beginning housekeeping is supposed to have a certain amount of silver for general use, as well as additional silver for occasional use. One would require in small silver one dozen large forks, one dozen small forks, one dozen tablespoons, one dozen dessertspoons, one or two dozen teaspoons, one dozen coffee-spoons. The reason more teaspoons are needed is because if one were having an afternoon tea it is necessary to have plenty of teaspoons, and even with the use of coffee-spoons you would have but three dozen spoons, an insufficient supply for a number of guests. Of course, a servant must be in attendance at a tea to carry away soiled silver and china and bring a fresh supply. 2. Dessert-spoons may be used for ice, although forks are preferred for almost all desserts, except soft desserts, viz.: custards, jellies, preserves, or any dessert served with cream. 3. After-dinner coffee is always hot and is served in summer as well as at other seasons. 4. Oysters on the shell are supposed to be in season from September to April, inclusively. They are served as a first course, at dinner. 5. Sherry and sauterne are sufficient wines for an informal dinner. 6. A silver dish with growing ferns may be used as a centerpiece on one's dining table, unless flowers are obtainable, or a dish of silver, glass, or china containing fruit, may be used.

Will and Shall

The correct and incorrect use of "will" and "shall" may be remembered if you understand that will refers to the exertion of the will; shall implies obligation or owing. Thus, you should say, "I will do it" or "I shall do it." "What will I do?" Misuse of words is shown in the expression, "The house is on Fifth Avenue." The proper phrase is, "in Fifth Avenue." It is correct to say, "She is quite deaf," not, "She is hard of hearing." "She has no control over her children," not, "of her children." "She has red hair," not, "she is red-headed."

The Privileges of Mourning

It is not customary for a person in deep mourning to go to a wedding, unless it is the marriage of a very near relative, or very intimate friend. In that case one might go and would lighten the mourning a little for the occasion, not wearing crape trimmings, and of course leaving off a veil. Persons in mourning are always invited to general affairs, viz.: weddings, teas, large or general receptions, because it is an act of courtesy in those who send out general invitations to remember all friends; but they are not under obligation to attend. Their mourning is supposed to be a sign that they have retired from social life for a certain period, and they have rights and privileges which are not accorded to others.

A PATRIOTIC POVERTY PARTY

Where the Total Expense is Under Five Dollars

THE entire cost of this entertainment for thirty-two people under five dollars, which is, of course, a very small sum to spend on a party of any kind, and as this one is extremely amusing, as well as instructive, it is sure to be a success. As July 4th is nearly always very warm, the arrangements must all be made accordingly; and it will be much pleasanter if it is possible to have the table for supper out under the trees, though that may be out of the question for many who would like to give such a party.

Everything Homemade

Everything must be homemade, and as money is to be saved, time must be spent instead. Write the invitations in pieces of fresh white tissue-paper, with a finely-pointed soft pencil, and ask the favored ones to be present at a "Patriotic Poverty Party" on July 4th, at whatever time you decide to have it. Carefully draw these papers up over wads of white cotton batting, and twist at the top so that they look like giant torpedoes, with the writing inside, pasting on the top of each a slip bearing the name of the invited one clearly written on it, with directions to "open carefully."

Whether the party is to be in the afternoon or evening, the refreshments may be the same, and, with the exception of the sandwiches, they can all be prepared the day before, or early in the morning, so that there need be no extra work at the last minute.

Favors Early

As each one enters the room, give a favor, which will determine who shall be their partner in the coming game. For the favors—there must be two of each—torpedoes like the invitations, only made of silk with sachet powdering inside, bunches of small torpedoes tied together with ribbon, matching them by the number on the string; firecrackers in different sizes, made of red silk pasted around cotton, with a fuse of string; tiny flags, matched by the size; pointed caps of tissue-paper, matching by color. All these may easily and cheaply be made at home.

A Patriotic Game

For the game, one box of cheap black-and-white checkers will be needed for each table; fasten a small nickel screw-eye in the center of each checker, and on the other side paste slips of paper bearing the names of American and British commanders who fought at the different forts during the Revolutionary War. Choose one American and one Englishman for each fort, and at that table have all the checkers with either one of the names of the commanders, dividing them unevenly, so that there may be no way of telling who is who until they are caught.

At one table there may be only two checkers bearing the name of the American commander, and all the rest labeled for the Englishman, while at other tables America may predominate, and at one they may be divided evenly. But do not use one color for either side; divide so that no one can possibly tell to which country the men belong until they are caught.

Each table must be designated by the name of one of the forts, by having a triangular pennant floating from the center of the table, with the name clearly painted in white. These pennants are of red and blue tissue-paper, pasted on 16-inch sticks, with a small roll of lead wound around base of each stick to make it stand firm and straight. Make the pennants as different as possible—one may be entirely of red, another of blue, a third half-and-half; many different effects may be obtained, but the name should always be white. Make the poles for fishing out of 12-inch sticks, well sandpapered and finished with a 6-inch string, with bent pin attached.

How the Game is Played

Four play at each table, and when the signal is given by beating a small drum, each player takes a line, and tries to hook as many of the commanders as possible before the signal is given to stop. As it only takes a few minutes for this, there should be several rounds at each table before moving.

Only Americans are counted, and the pair who have caught the greatest number move up to the next table, and have a tiny flag or star pasted on their tally-card.

Prizes

Prizes for the lady and gentleman who have caught the greatest number of Americans must, of course, be a poverty party, be made at home. A veil-roll for the lady is most attractive, made of a pasteboard mailing tube, covered with a thin layer of perfumed cotton batting, having red silk sewed closely over, and then ends covered to resemble a giant firecracker, with a fuse attached to one end.

This will keep any number of veils in perfect condition if rolled over it. For the man another firecracker is made in the same manner, but without the sachet, and having a ribbon loop to hang it up with; any man will greatly appreciate this cravat loop, which is really of some use.

Booby prizes in the shape of cocked hats may easily be made out of the small size paper paté cases; lay one on a circle of paper several inches larger than the case, and tack the paper up to the case in three places, finishing one of them with a stiff cockade of red and blue paper. Fill with homemade lemon or peppermint drops, and a regulation cocked hat is ready for the "winning" booby.

The Supper Table

Trim the supper table with bands of red and blue tissue-paper, and use paper napkins. Have the iced tea in huge glass pitchers, large trays of sandwiches, cookies piled up on round platters, and the sherbet in a large glass bowl. This is to be served in cones, such as are seen at restaurants, and one of the shapes may be borrowed for the occasion.

As each cone or fort is put on a plate, stick a tiny flag in the top, and the illusion will be complete. Make the sandwiches of thin bread and butter, one slice for each sandwich; roll and tie with red and blue ribbons.

Several nasturtium leaves on each slice before rolling is a great improvement, or watercress may be used; both are easily obtained, and are especially refreshing in summer. Wafer cookies, of either ginger or lemon, should be all the cake needed, and the sherbet is a simple raspberry water ice, with beaten whites of two eggs stirred in just before serving.

DOUBLE HEADER ABANDONED

Car Lock Out Interferes With Ball Plans; Gregory Out for the Season

Pitcher Boyle of Chicago, who was expected in the city Wednesday to sign articles with President Rooney of the local club has been signed up by the Philadelphia club of the American league. This was officially given out by the president this morning. Boyle is an excellent man and it was thought that he would fail to show up here at the time when he was wanted. His transportation had been sent to him and everything was ready for his acceptance of terms if he did come. He was the box mate of Bradshaw of the famous Anson's colts, when they made their record breaking tour this spring and pitched excellent ball, winning most of the games for that aggregation.

No Double header

There will be no double header at the park tomorrow unless the car lock out is settled before that time. Gregory Out of It

A La Crosse hospital last evening it was found that Ollie Gregory's ankle had been broken and that perhaps he would be out of the game for the remainder of the season. His position at short stop will be filled by Wilhem.

THE MOST VITAL of MAGAZINES

"Cut Its Pages and It Bleeds"

THAT'S one man's striking way of expressing his conviction that OSMOPOLITAN Magazine is not a lifeless, inorganic, spineless thing of mere ink and paper, made just to sell, but the living, breathing, pulsating embodiment of all that is nearest the heart and most welcome to the mind of the American people.

OSMOPOLITAN contains within its always charming covers, something for every member of the family. And, that something is the best of its kind in every case. The magazine's great prestige and purchasing power enable it to command the best work of all the most popular and highly paid writers and artists—not merely now and then, but twelve months in the year.

Its special articles are always unusually vivid and readable studies of the most significant of contemporary men and movements, prepared by the ablest writers, at great expense and only after months and often years of expert, first-hand investigation.

Its short fiction is representative of the most popular short-story wizards of the day and runs the whole scale from grave to gay, with such especial emphasis on the note of humor that all lovers of a good laugh have come to look upon OSMOPOLITAN as peculiarly their magazine. Its continued stories are invariably by master novelists, full of color, packed with movement, breathless in interest—the "novels of the year."

OSMOPOLITAN is famous for its cover designs—the most striking on the newsstands, month after month. Its illustrations are the best work of the greatest magazine artists, and its monthly series of theatrical portraits, always uniquely presented, is one of its most perennially popular features. In poetry, it has published some of the most notable work of recent years. Its trenchant, critical articles and briefer notes on literary folk and phrases are, without exception, the ablest in magazinedom.

All in all, OSMOPOLITAN is the most universally interesting, the most sanely all-round magazine of them all—and at the same time the most refreshingly individual. Wherever anything is read, OSMOPOLITAN will be read with delight.

As an advertising medium, OSMOPOLITAN is among the greatest of the great. Just now it is riding the crest of the wave. In volume of advertising it has stood first among all the popular monthly magazines twice during the last few months. Its February number not only headed the list in its class, but showed the greatest gain in advertising of all the monthlies over the corresponding issue a year ago—namely, 30 pages. Its April number—out March 1st—carries more net cash advertising than any previous number in the history of the magazine. And this in spite of our firm conviction that the pre-panic numbers established a high-water mark that would not soon be touched again. "OSMOPOLITAN—ward the Empire of Advertising Takes Its Way."

The Thermometer may say 90 but

Beach's Peosta Soap

—makes the Laundress happy.

No boiling, no fire in the laundry, no steaming hot water are needed for washing The Peosta Way.

Just soak the clothes an hour or more in Peosta Suds (See Ads. 1 and 2) and a light rubbing in tepid water does the rest—No over-heating, no back-breaking labor—Clothes early on the line, as white as snow.

Peosta Soap will save in the wear of clothes more than the cost of the soap.

7.—Be sure bluing water has been mixed to color required and thoroughly stirred before any clothes are put into it. If bluing is put into tub while clothes are in it or if clothes are allowed to stand in bluing water, they will be streaked. "Sky blue" when dipped up in the hand is the test for bluing water.
